

500 words bio:

My name is Aouatif Zebiri. I am in my third year, doing a BA with a double major in Political Science and Community and Public Affairs and Policy Studies (SCPA). And I am running as your next Academic and Advocacy coordinator. For the past three years at Concordia, I have acquired a lot of knowledge and given back immensely to the Concordia community.

I have been involved with the following:

- President of two humanitarian clubs, one of which is Amnesty International Concordia
- Representative of SCPASA at L'Association pour une solidarité syndicale étudiante (ASSÉ).
- Arts & Science Councillor, where I have taken part of several committees including:
 - External and Mobilization committee
 - Policy review committee (for 2 years)
 - Appointments committee
 - AVEQ Community Action Fund
- Member of the Board of Directors at the Quebec Public Interest Research Group – Concordia

My three years at Concordia have shown me how diversified our student body is and everyone wants to contribute to this vibrant community. However, for the past years, certain groups on campus have either been ignored or neglected. Nonetheless, for the past years, the Concordia Student Union, has had a lack of communication and appeal to the larger student body. Until now, students ask me: what is the CSU?

There is also evident disappointment from the student body when it comes to academics. There is a lot more to be done to improve the students' academic experience at Concordia. It is the union's job to be at the forefront of resolving any issue that students have academically and supporting them in anything that they deem necessary. Students should not be left struggling in their academics.

I am committed to do things differently, to get results from the first months in office.

My platform is inclusive and diversified, but most importantly focused on resolving current issues and planning for the future. It includes and not limited to:

- Fixing the MATH LABS ventilation system
- Tutoring services for the Engineering and Business faculties
- Lecture Capture for Engineering and Math classes
- Interfaculty festival
- Better and more bursaries
- Diversified Curriculum for Arts & Science
- Speaker series
- Career Fair
- Reform of committees' structure
- Campaign: Zero tolerance to sexual violence and racial discrimination on campus

For anyone who knows me personally or has worked with me closely on projects, would say that I am a hard-working person who has a goal behind every action taken and doesn't tire until that goal is achieved. Three things have helped me succeed in the past: hard work, dedication, and passion. I plan to devote time and energy, give all my heart to projects that would improve students' experience at Concordia. I am dedicated to bringing about change, project, and accommodate your goals and visions and make your student life and academics as enjoyable as possible.

75 words bio:

Vote Aouatif Zebiri: Your Success is My Success. I am devoted to help you and provide to you the support you need to improve your academic experience at Concordia. And deliver to you the opportunities necessary to accelerate and advance your career. Most importantly, I am here to listen to you, resolve your problems and accommodate your ideas. So, choose someone who cares about what you want and can make it a reality.